St. Patrick's Day : March 17th,2025 (wear Green / yellow)

Monday, March 17 is the day to honor the Patron Saint of Ireland, St. Patrick. So on March 17th, our children wear green, chase leprechauns and search for lucky four-leaf clovers and learn about the Irish people's culture, heritage, art, making shamrocks out of green playdough, following a rainbow to find a pot of gold and music. Ireland has so many magical myths and entertaining folklore that children will love to hear about.

First Day of Spring: March 20th : Spring celebration (please dress up your children in spring colors/ flowers).

We say "Goodbye" to winter and "Hello" to spring in March. The first spring day is Thursday, March 20, 2025. Springtime; the sunshine, flowers and birds that come with it are among the most popular. We Spend the day outside with our preschoolers, growing plants, having a scavenger hunt or making birdhouses. This is a great time to teach our children about Mother Nature and her wonder and beauty.

National Women's History Month:

The discussion is National Women's History Month through reading a book / art. This is an excellent opportunity to teach children about women's important roles in history, from the civil rights movement to scientific discoveries.

National Optimism Month

spread smiles and joy : The benefits of being optimistic are more happiness, better emotional and physical health, less stress and tremendous success. Children who learn to look on the bright side of things can better handle unexpected changes as they grow and adapt. We teach the kids about positive affirmations by saying nice things to one another. Ask them how they feel when they hear a compliment and when they give praise. Instilling optimism at a young age helps ease them into the complications of adulthood.
